

Dimitri Lambadarios

Dimitri Lambadarios has been heavily involved in Real Estate in recent years, specializing in hospitality projects and hotel operation agreements. He has worked closely with Grivalia a leading Greek REIC in numerous transactions focusing on hotel acquisitions and the tourism sector. He has served as the Chairman of the Greek National Tourism Organization and has in depth knowledge of the sector.

Dimitris has been the longstanding legal counsel for Bombardier GmbH and has advised in this capacity in tenders issued by the Greek state as well as on issues related to the consortium for the Athens Metro.

He has advised numerous companies in doing business in Greece and has participated in numerous projects assisting investors entering the Greek market.

Qualifications

- LLM, University College of London
- LLB, School of Law, University of Athens