

Eirini Giannaki

Eirini Giannaki is an Associate working within our Project Finance & Development and Energy practice groups. She focuses on public law, administrative law, energy and environment law, as well as public procurement law and competition law. She advises both domestic and international clients on administrative, energy and environment, project finance, public procurement and regulatory issues, as well as concession agreements and public-private partnerships. Prior to joining Lambadarios Law Firm, Eirini has worked for a law firm in Athens, where she has been involved in both consultancy and litigation touching upon a wide range of legal issues, including public, European and commercial law.

Memberships

- Athens Bar Association

Languages

- Greek
- English
- French
- German

Qualifications

- LL.M. (MJur), University of Oxford, Faculty of Law (2023)
- LL.B., National and Kapodistrian University of Athens (2021)
- Erasmus, University of Paris I Panthéon-Sorbonne (2020)

Scholarships:

- Oxford Law Faculty (2022-2023)
- AG Leventis Foundation (2022-2023)
- SYNENOSIS – Greek Shipowners' social welfare company (2022-2023)

- IPEP – Greek Foundation for Education and European Culture (2022-2023)